REDUCTION OF FARES. THE NEW SCHEDULE ADOPTED AND

ORDER PASSED. Maximum-Present Lower Rates Not to be Changed.

Special to the RECORD-UNION.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 26th.-The Board of Rail-is virtually fixed by the railroad company, the en-tire laboring population will be materially affected os Angeles to Colton ian Fernando to Los Angeles. Los Angeles to Santa Ana . . Los Angeles to San Pedro. alt to Ione...... avis to Knight's Landing. Woodland to Tehama.

San Francisco to Monterey Carvadero to Tres Pinos... It is further ordered as follows: First—The rates per mile established as aforesaid hall apply not only for the whole distance, and in oth directions between terminal points, but also increased, and all such lower rates shall remain as they now are.

Fourth—For children under 12 years of age the rate shall be one-half that for siduits, and children under 5 years shall be carried free when in charge of a parent or other at endant.

Fifth—One hundred pounds of customary bgg-gage on a ticket for full fare, and fifty pounds on a ticket for half fare, shall be carried free of charge.

The order above was discussed at length, and the difference between the schedules. Mr. foote's had not been worked out in detail, and Mr Carpenter doubted if the Courts would hold it a "schedule" within the meaning of the law. creased, and all such lower rates shall remain as within the meaning of the law. PERSONAL EXPLANATION. Mr. Carpenter—I desire to say, before voting upon these schedules, that all I have done in this Board I have done conscientiously and as well as I knew. Reference has been made to the railroad agitation, know something about it myse f. I don't know a an done or who has done it. This is a free coun.

Every man has a right to say what he pleases, d these agitators have the privilege of talking out railroad fares without due information if they Board has had h's been about local rates. The cry of the people has been, "Relieve us from these local rates." The Board has received so complaint of the round-trip fares. I believe this four-cent-a mile schedule makes a material and heavy reduction on local rates. If we find the round trip rates in the future are oppressive, I will be willing to go after them. I have fully made up my mind not to vote for a uniform reduction. We cannot level mountains nor make deserts blossom as the rose. It is not fair to enforce a uniform rate where the conditions are different. I am in favor of the four-cent schedule for many reasons.

not fair to enforce a uniform rate where the conditions are different. I am in favor of the four-cent schedule for many reasons.

My conclusions are these: First—I favor and support the four-cent schedule, because the basis of the rate and the rate it-elf are reasonable and just. Second—In execution it conforms to the law prescribing the method of making changes and reductions of rates, and covers 140 miles more of roads than the schedule for which it is a substitute. Third—In purpose and operation it cannot fail to meet the rightful demands of all those who are entitled, upon substantially the same conditions, to the same service for the same compensation. Fourth—Although strictly and necessarily an official and not a partisan act, it nevertheless is a material reduction of fares, from a maximum of 10 cents per mile on all the rest of the Central and Southern Pacific systems. Fifth—It runs the cow-catcher of the Constitution through all arbitrary and unjust inequalities and discriminations above, and leaves no margin for them below the reduced maximums. Sixth—Because it is not based upon the unconditional principle of one uniform rate for all classes of service without regard to cost or conditions; it may and does make distinctions according to differing circumstances, and prohibits any increase of round, single-trip or other existing rates ranging below said maximums. Seventh—It is probably the most sweeping reduction of rates for passenger fare sever made by the schedule in any 8t. its and if blood, costiveness, irregular appetite, headache, sour belching soreness in bace, breast and side, heart pains, gliddness, bad color to stools and urine, he tand cold sensitions, yellow skin. THE RATE OF WAGES. The Question Discussed from the Labor

Standpoint. The following interesting and practical discussion of the question as to the effect that The Rate Fixed at Four and Six Cents as a reduction of the rates of fares and freights will have upon the wages of employes occurred at the meeting of the Railroad Commission on Monday, when ex-Mayor Jabez

Turner, of this city, appeared and addressed the Board in reply to remarks of G. B. Mer-

Mr. Foote—I believe you are from Sacramento?
Mr. Turner—I am from Sacramento, and I have lived there twelve years.
Mr. Foote—Were you formerly Mayor?
Mr. Turner—I was, sir.
Mr. Foote—Do you reside there now?
Mr. Turner—I do, sir.
Mr. Foote—You have been perfectly frank with us, and I want to be with you and the gentlemen you represent as railroad employes. Of course I have heard that same argument advanced before, that if fares and freights were reduced, and by reason of that fact the income of the company was diminished, that as a consequence the managers of the railroad company would reduce the wages of laborers will be reduced?
Mr. Foote—Have you any assurance from anybody that if these fares and freights are reduced the wages of laborers will be reduced?
Mr. Foote—Have you are assuming that?
Mr. Turner—No.
Mr. Foote—You are assuming that?
Mr. Turner—I assume that something must be cut. There might not be a reduction per capita, but the assumption is that labor must suffer. It is the first item that stands in the linefor reduction al-Mr. Humphreys—There is no reason why this chedule should be final. If we find at the end of a nonth that the railroads can stand more reductions that the railroads can stand more reductions.

in San Francisco, it is ordered that the maximums of local passenger rates of fares, as per schedule hereunto attached, on each and all the railroads of this State hereinafter named, be and that same are hereby established and ropted, and that the Secretary of this Board be and he is hereby directed and required, without delay, to have said schedules and this order printed and to serve printed duplicates thereof duly certified, on the person, copartnership, company or corporation so be affected thereby, and hat the charges established by said schedules shall o into force and effect the twelfth day after such same are stollows: first item that stands in the line of reduction alrailroad company."

I will just read the names and hand the document present at their office of that the maximums are as per schedule and lab the railroads of be and the same are ded, and that the Secret is hereby directed and late said schedules and reprinted duplicates person, copartnership, eaffected thereby, and some from another. There were even some men there who thought it might be construed into asping a good word for the company, and the same for the canvass was very short, or the list would be maximum.

Cts. per Mile.

At the selection is and company."

I will just read the names and hand the document has been of the shop; Thomas had and the same are to you, that every name that has been affixed to that document has been of the man's own free will read and the same are to you, that every name that has been affixed to that document has been of the man's own free will.

Mr. Turner—As I told you before, you cannot nake me there are S72 names. Our time for the canvass was very short, or the list would be an upon us; it was thoroughly spon; L. Schieber, New York; J. S. Garland, Washington; L. Schieber, New Yor iver, some nine or ten miles up in the mountains, an to me a rather incoherent way, that the reduction freights and fares would redound to the benefit of labor. Now I will deap it.

Mr. Carpenter—I will call your attention to one thing is that resolution you have just read. That is that the railroad company, or companies, fixed the rate of wages throughout the State. How do bloyes in the cities.

Mr. Turner-I beg your pardon. Right here in San Francisco, boilermakers, blacksmiths and molders—I can fetch men right out of the shops on Front and Beale streets to prove that the rate of wages in the shops at Sacramento are higher now—in the boilermakers' shop, for instance, if you will excuse me. Now, in the blacksmith shops there are 38 boys who range from 10 cents to 20 cents per hour. That is a very good feature of our shops. We have altogether some 115 boys that we are bringing under discipline, industry, etc. They are learning some branch of business, and becoming useful members of society. Now the helpers, of course, they get from 21½ to 27½ cents an hour. These are laborers, helpers, blacksmiths' helpers. Now there are blacksmiths whose wages run from 30 to 47½ cents per hour. Of course they graduate according to skill, which is much better than if there was a pressure brought to bear on the company by some trades union, and they were compelled to pay a uniform rate for good and bad. Better for the men, and better for the company. All intelligent mechanics are coming to that conclusion. That list would average §3 a day for men and boys, while here in San Francisco, with one or two exceptions, blacksmiths' wages are only §3 50 a day. That is all it amounts to for the very best of them.

Mr. Foote—How much do the wages of the men average there? I understand you to say from 30 cents an hour up to 40. What do they cad a day's work—eight hours? interests, and we know that a reduction of freights and fares will not only be detrimental to our interests, but to those of other laboring men in the State. When I say every laboring man, of course there might be here and there a man that might be benefited in some way. A mechanic is apt to think that the solution of this problem should be brought within the realm of theoretical and practical mechanics, and the mechanic learns very early in his pursuits that it takes a great deal more force to move a weight up an inclined plane than over a level one, and he knows that every pound of force has to be purchased at the expense of something. Whether it is knows that every pound of force has to be purchased at the expense of something. Whether it is wood or coal or food it is all the same thing. Now, if you reduce freights and fares something must be cut off, of course, to compensate for it. The wood, of course, is not got for nothing. It has to be hewn down in the forest, driven into a convenient place, hauled to the side of the track, sawed up and thrown into the fire-box. And the coal, whether it comes from Australia or Washington Territory or British Columbia, or wherever they get it, of course they have to pay for it.

Mr. Foote—On that wood proposition, do you know what it costs the railroad company to get the ents an hour up to 40. What do they call a day' work- eight hours?
Mr. Turner—No; we work nine hours, paid by ways.

Mr. Foote—Suppose, as a matter of fact, that the sflect of it was not to reduce the wages of labor, but simply the profits of the few individuals who $3 60 a day ? Mr. Turner—Yes, sir. Mr. Foote—And you say the average wages here mr $3 50?

Mr. Turner—For ten hours; yes, sir.
Mr. Foote—Well, the average wages of the boys or nine hours is $1 80—20 cents an hour? Mr. Foote—I was informed in Truckee the other law, they take the railroad company to get the wood they use on the mountain division?

Mr. Turner—I believe it is about §4 75, and from that to $5, sometimes a little less; it fluctuates.

Mr. Foote—I was informed in Truckee the other law, they take mean thousand court these means. Mr. Turner—Yes, sir. Mr Foote—And 90 cents a day at 10 cents as our?

Mr. Turner—Yes.

Mr. Foote—Do you think those wages bear out your statement that the average wages are higher?

Mr. Turner—They do.

Mr. Foote—I have not made the calculation, but Mr. Foote—I have not made the calculation, but thought perhaps they did not.

Mr. Turner—That is all.

Mr. Foote—What is it really in the case of shops—big shops—as to the hours of labor? What do they call the hours of work?

Mr. Turner—Ten hours is the general custom in this State. You are aware that there is a sort of obsolete eight-hour law, but ten hours is the custom all over the State. In San Francisco it is, But there we have come to the conclusion, a great mathere we have come to the conclusion. deal of it they have to get lower down.

Mr. Foote—I don't know what it costs lower down, but that is what I am informed it costs them.

Mr. Turner—I would not make any positive statement about that. I simply make this as an illusall over the State. In San Francisco it is. But there we have come to the conclusion, a great majority of the mechanics, that it is best for the men that they lose an hour. We be lieve that the question of wages will ultimately regulate itself.

Mr. Foote—I understand you to be proceeding on two theories, one of which is this; or rather two propositions. In the first place, if the Board reduces the rate of freights and fare, that the natural result of that is that the company will reduce the rate of wages that they now pay to their laborers. Mr. Turner—I have not stated that. I say that they will probably employ less men. They may cut the wages. They may do any of these things; but, as I stated to you before, I am not in their confidence. I do not know what they will do. I am only reasoning, of course.

gentlemen, there are 872 names on there [pointing], and although they are railroad employes, they are men. Many of them men of just as keen intelligence as any men you will find anywhere; men who have been paid well, and they have worked well. There is not a similar establishment anywhere in the United States to-day where the men do as good a day's work, I believe; and there is nowhere where men get as good wages. It is the interest of capitalists, it is the interest of all classes, to keep the wage scale high. You can make the best out of a man by paving him well, but just so soon as you begin to cheapen his labor you begin to degrade him. And if you, gentlemen—I know you will not do it intentionally—if you should do anything to bring down the price of labor in this State, I am satisfied that it will not only redound to the inconvenience of the laboring classes, but it will recart on all classes. I am not here of course to lecture you as to your duties. I recognize your official positions, and know you will do exactly what seems to you best. But let no man be deceived, and think if these fares and freights are going to be reduced, that it will be to their benefit, but not to ours. They will get so much more for the benefit, but not to ours. They will get so much more for the inc to ours. They will get so much more for the inc to ours. They will get so much more for their products virtually, but we who consume it will get it for no less. It will not not suppose for a moment that if the merchant gets his load of hats or shoes or shirts, or whatever he gets at a certain percentage. less freight, that I will get one for the one tenth of a cent less.

paid one more dollar than they earn. I know many of their employes, and they earn every dollar they get, and they are pretty smart fellows. Mr. Stubbs has talked to us about it; and you, the representative of those mechanics, have made an argument on that side which is entitled to considerable weight; but I do not think your conclusions are just. I do not think the railroad company would dare reduce the wages of their employes, because I do not think they are getting enough now, and I do not agree with you that they fix the price of labor. My information on that subject is, that the railroad company employs laborers at just as cheap a rate as they possibly can, and the wages of railroad employes are not higher or so high as the wages of skilled employes in the cities.

The Pauper Immigration Question. WASHINGTON, June 26th.—The regular Cabinet neeting to day was attended by all except Freling-buysen and Teller, both of whom are out of the city. The principal question considered was the shipment of pauper immigrants to this country from Ireland by the British authorities. The result of the deliberation on the subject was shown in the subsequent action of the Secretary of the Treasury, who telegraphed instructions to the Collector of Customs at New York to co-operate with the Com-missioners of Immigration of that port, to prevent all immigrants landing found to be paupers within the meabing of the law. In the event of such pau-

Palmer, a Constable for the southern portion of the county, arrived in the celty yesterday morning, having in charge factory cost about $40,000. The machinery Mrs. Martha A. Hebb, who, it is alleged, shot her husband four times with a 44 calibar in July, 1881. Before March, 1881, $23,300 shot her husband four times with a 44-caliber was paid on the contract. The money was pistol, about dusk the evening before, inflict-taken from the appropriation for that fiscal ing what are supposed to be mortal wounds.

Mrs. Hebb was immediately lodged in jail, and by the advice of her attorneys has reand, by the advice of her attorneys, has re- difference between the receipts and the exfused to see or make any statement to news-paper reporters. In an interview with the Coustable, a reporter ascertained that Henry BSI, amounting to St, 128 60, together with the Constable, a reporter ascertained that Henry Hebb, who was in Sacramento on Monday, rode home in the evening with Mrs. This by and her son. When they passed Walnut Grove, they were observed by Mrs. Hebb, who immediately followed them on foot. She caught up with them at the ferry landing, and she says she called to Habb several times requesting an interview. He turned a deaf ear to her entreaties, and commenced feeling for something in the bottom of the carriage. Mrs. Hebb says she thought he was searching for a pistol, so she drew forth a self-cocking bulldog pistol of the largest size, and in such close proximity that the powder burned his clothes, discharged four shots at Hebb, three of which took effect. One bullet passed through an arm, another through the hand, and one was lodged in his breast. The latter wound is considered fatal.

One builet passed through an arm, another through the hand, and one was lodged in his breast. The latter wound is considered fatal. The fourth shot fired by the would be murderess, whether by accident or otherwise, wounded the neck of the son of Mrs. Thisby. In ascertaining the facts that led to this lamentable state of affairs, the reporter unearthed the history of a family that, for a few years at least, has been an unhappy one. Thirteen years ago they were married, and for ten-years they lived happily together and prospered. In fact the worldly possessions they accumulated by ceaseless toil were sufficient to entitle them to be classed among those who are termed wealthy. Three years ago Henry Habb it seems forward the intimeter and made no difference in the result.

This closed the direct examination, and the cross-examination of Warden Ames was commenced by Mr. Sears. He asked what the total receipts and expenditures were during the witness' term of office, and the counsel for the People objected to the general examination, and they does not make no difference in the result.

Hebb, it seems, formed the intimate acquaintance of a widow younger and better looking than the partner of his toil, and all of his love and affection was transferred compelled to confine themselves in the crosser of his children to his new examination closely to the matter contained love. This led to a family quarrel, a sept in the specifications, they would like a little While the matter was under discussion the to ask for a divorce, and he was violently opposed by Mrs. Hebb, who claimed that opposed by Mrs. Hebb, who claimed that stated, to evidence which had been brought two weeks ago. Mrs. Donnellan is the only the control of the contro ditional specifications, relating mainly, it was stated to evidence which had been brought portion of his illness, returned home about his object was simply to enable him to marry the woman to whom he had transferred his affections. On the 14th day of February, through his attorney, and by some means alleged by Mrs. Hebb to be crocked, he transferred his property to the widow Thisby. She claims that this was done solely for the purpose of defrauding her out of a fair division of the property. She says that she has been turned property. She says that she has been turned out of doors by her former husband, and has, in order to make a living, been compelled to cook for farm hands for a small pittance, while he has lived with the widow spoken of in all the seeming enjoyment of the pleasures of life. From those who are acquainted with the wounded man a quite different story is obtained. It appears that a decree of divorce was granted to him on the ground of extreme cruelty. That the property rights between in order to make a living, been compelled to cook for farm hands for a small pittance, was granted to him on the ground of extreme cruelty. That the propercy rights between the two were settled satisfactorily to both litigants, and had the indorsement of the counsel on both sides. Mrs. Hebb, they claim, was deprived of no right, and no unfair advantage was taken of her, either in or out of Court, and that the facts which led the Court to grant the divorce to the husband were clear and incontrovertible. Allen has justly earned this title, and thousands are this day rejoicing over a fine head of hair produced by her unequaled preparation for restor-ing, invigorating, and beautifying the Hair. Her World's Hair Restorer quickly cleanses the scalp, removing Dandruff, and arrests the fall; the hair, if gray, is changed to its natural color, giving it the same vitality and luxurious quantity as in youth. COMPLIMENTARY. "My hair is now restored to its youthful color; I have not a gray hair left. I am satisfied that the preparation is not a dye, but acts on the secretions. My hair ceases to fall, which is certainly an advantage to me, who was in danger of becoming bald." This is the testimony of all who use Mrs. S. A. ALLEN'S WORLD'S HAIR RESTORER "One Bottle did it." That is the expression of many who have had their gray hair restored to its natural color, and their bald spot covered with hair, after using one bottle of MRS. S. A. ALLEN'S WORLD'S HAIR RESTORER. It is not a dye.

CALIFORNIA. The Glenn Murder Case.

Sustained by the Court Counsel—Did you keep Mrs. Posten's discount books, and take charge of the shaving of Glenn's script for her?
Objected to by the prosecution and sustained by the Court. Counsel stated that he proposed to prove by the wi'ness that Miller, in turning over the accounts, had transferred to witness $2,007 of Mrs. Posten's money, to be used in discounting Glenn's scrip.

Objected to by the prosecution and sustained by the Court.
Other questions tending to show the intimate relations between Glenn and "the Rosebud" in business and other matters were ruled out by the Court Objection of prosecution sustained.

Counsel—I wish to show that Mrs. Posten came to Jacinto as soon as Dr. Glenn's family left, and to show the ascendancy she gained over the doctor.
The Court—Supposing she did; what has that got to do with the case? I sustain the objection.
Witness, proceeding, said that during the two years prior to his death Dr. Glenn boarded at the hotel and at Mrs. Posten's. For the last eighteen months he lived at Mrs. Posten's.
Counsel—Was Dr. Glenn much at the house of Mrs. Posten?
Witness—He was knecking about the ranch most ess-He was knocking about the ranch mos Counsel-Was she knocking about with him?

Counsel—was sae knowing about with him? Objected to by the prosecution, and sustained. A number of questions tending to show the relations existing between Dr. Gleen and "the Roseud," and that she controlled him in his business, and was directly interested with him, were disposed in the same manner by the Court.

Cross examination—Dr. Gleen had a room at the otel, of which I am the landlord, and stopped here each night. He boarded at the house of Mrs. tosten. He never slept out of his room while in acinto. The store clerks and three females boarded the same house. Dr. Glenn weighed 185 pounds, t the same hou e. Dr. Glenn weighed 185 pounds, and was about 54 years of age. Miller is about the same age, but a smaller man.

At the afternoon session, after several witnesses had been examined, the name of Huram Miller was called, and the defendant, who had been sitting beside his counsel and surrounded by his unfortunate fan.ily, took the stand, which was a signal for a discontinuance of the talking and bustle at the time in the Court-room. Miller gave his testimony in a collected manner, using language the command of which showed that he possessed no mean education. tion.

(His festimony was fully outlined in the opening report of his counsel, which was published in the RECORD-UNION yesterday morning.)

The Court adjourned to 9 A. M. to-morrow, at which time the cross examination of the defendant will begin. It is the opinion of prominent lawyers here that the prosecution will now be obliged to produce their witness, "the Rosebud of Jacinto," to rebut the test mony of the defendant.

San Carlos, June 26th.—By order of Crook, the Indians of San Carlos reservation were called together by the commanding officer, to meet the returned Chiricahuas and give expression to their views in regard to remaining on the reservation. The commanding officer presided, and the meeting was addressed by Loco, chief of the Warm Spring Indians; Bonito, the leader of the party who killed Judge McComas and wife and captured their son Charles; by Monago, a sub-chief, and Rana, chief of the remant of Viccorio's old band. The substance of the remarks of the chiefs was that they were glad to get back to the Agency under the protection of Crook, and would settle down and be good Indians. They had no friends in San Carlos, and wanted to go to the Ap che country to be with friends. The tone of speech of the captured chiefs showed that they realized the hostility of the Agency Indians, whose silency was significant.

PAINFUL CASE OF TETTER. I have for 25 or 39 years been a sufferer from DRY TETTER. It developed itself on different portions of my body, extending to my feet and hands, causing them to itch intolerably and to crack. It was so painful that I was compelled to wear India rubber gloves day and night for months at a time. After consulting the best physicians, and using all the remedies which came to my notice, without relief, I commenced the use of SWIET'S SPECIFIC and am happy to of SWIFT'S SPECIFIC, and am happy to say that there is scarcely a vestige of the disease left. At no time in 25 years have I felt such relief and freedom from disease, and I cheerfully recommend Swift's Specific to all similarly afflicted. J. R. BRANHAM, Macon, Ga.

I was laid low by an attack of Bronchitis and Ministers' Sore Throat, and my life was almost despaired of, when my doctor said, "Try S. S. S." I hesitated for some time, but I was afraid of being permanently laid aside from the active duties of my ministry, I decided to give the preparation a fair trial, and after persevering in its use I found complete relief, and am enjoying excellent health. I am clearly of the opinion that Swift's Specific is one of the best Alteratives and Blood Purifiers in existence, and I take pleasure in recommending its fine curative qualities to others afflected as I was.
